NO. 31

GOODS MUST BE PURE

Preparing to Enforce a Provision That Will Insure the Purity of Imports.

IT REJECTS "DOCTORED" PRODUCTS

No "Embalmed" Stuff That the Importing Country Bans Can Be Sent Over Here.

Washington, May 20.—Acting Secretary of Agriculture Moore has requested the secretary of state to ascertain from the United States consul at Mayence the facts regarding the trial of Dr. Schlump von Hope, who is charged with the adulteration of Niedersteiner wines. It was alleged in this case that the wines were largely adulterated and imitated. If this were so, under the act of March 3, 1903, the wines would be excluded from United States ports. This act authorizes the secretary of agriculture to examine imported food products and to refuse admission to any found to violate its provisions, which shut out products containing ingredients making them unsuitable in the country of their origin.

Notice in Course of Preparation.
The bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture is preparing for approval of the secretary of agriculture and of the state department a notification to United States consuls throughout the service of the existence of the law, and a request that they suggest to shippers at their ports that their goods shipped should contain nothing that would prevent their distribution or sale in the country where such articles are made. In this way this government expects that the expense of administering the new law, which will go into effect July 1, next, will be largely kept down.

Goods That the Law Affects.
This government will refuse to admit into this country articles that are placed under the ban in the country or countries in which they are made or exported. The laws governing this subject differ widely among the different foreign countries, and it is stated that there is scarcely any food product whose sale is not restricted in one form or another in some country. The ban will extend to canned goods which contain any coloring matter, chemical preservatives, all kinds of preserved meats which contain any kind of coloring matter or preservatives, many jellies, marmalades and jams, etc.

Certification of Purity Wanted.
Wine merchants in this country already are asking this government to certify to the purity of their goods, and to state that they contain no added sugar, alcohol or coloring matter, etc. The law which is about to go into operation authorizes the secretary of agriculture to investigate the character of the chemical and physical tests which are applied to United States food products in foreign countries, and when desired by shippers or owners to inspect before shipment United States food products intended for countries where chemical or physical tests are required preliminary to sale there. The law is retaliatory and was intended to meet German exclusions of our meat products principally.

SOUTHERN VETERANS

Go Wild When They See the Widow of the Dead "Stonewall" Jackson.

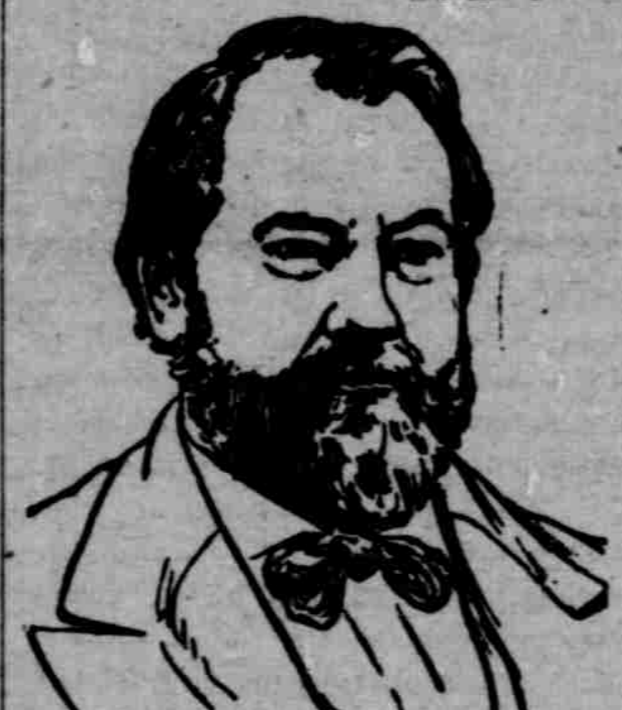

VENERATION FOR GENERAL GORDON

Whose Position Has Some Delightful Perquisites—Great Enthusiasm at the Reunion.

New Orleans, May 20.—The thirtieth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans is in session in the great auditorium at the fair grounds. The weather at the opening was perfect, and all the arrangements by the local entertainment committee were most successful. There were thousands of veteran soldiers, hundreds of beautiful women, and above and around on every hand a profusion of fluttering flags and waving streamers. There was martial music without limit and enthusiasm unbounded. Over the beauty and success of the day there was but a single shadow, and that promised to disappear before the morning. This was the illness of General Gordon, the commander-in-chief of the organization, who had to remain away from the afternoon session. It is possible that he may not be able to preside for a day or two.

PROUD OF ALL OF THE PAST.
Gen. Gordon Says of the Ex-Confederates—Facing a Pregnant Future.

The opening exercises consisted of the customary series of welcoming speeches and responses, and General Gordon's address. Some of the noticeable sentences in this were as follows: "We will not indulge on this centennial—this political millennial morning—nor at other times, in any bitterness. We feel none. We pity those who do. We have long since drawn the curtain of oblivion over the regretful and unseemly things of the past; and we cherish as Americans the valor and noble deeds of both armies and of all sections. We are proud of all the past. Moreover, we are now facing a future pregnant with tremendous possibilities; but we face it with a strength of hope and assurance, born of an unswerving purpose to discharge our every duty to all races, and to the whole country."

At the conclusion of General Gordon's address he led to the front of the platform Mrs. Stonewall Jackson and said: "It was my fortune and I will never cease to thank God that it was my fortune to follow, to know well, and to love Stonewall Jackson. He is not here, but the best half of him is in the person of his wife. Comrades, I present to you Mrs. Stonewall Jackson." In the wild cheers that swept the hall, the fair faced lady from Virginia was made to know once more how southern love remembers.

"And here's a young Jackson," called out the general, leading forward a very pretty girl, Miss Julia Jackson Christian, the grand-daughter of the famous soldier. As he spoke he kissed her and the cheers were redoubled for the general and the girl.

Hon. John H. Reagan, the sole surviving member of the Davis cabinet, then spoke from one portion of the rostrum. After the speech the mobbing of General Gordon was resumed, with redoubled energy. One old soldier, identified by his enthusiasm and a few incidents, sank on his knees before the general and would have hugged him had not the by-standers interfered.

Washington, May 18.—The state department has received a long letter from Miss Ellen M. Stone, demanding damages from the Turkish government on account of outrages perpetrated upon her by the brigands who captured and held her prisoner while she was in the Turkish empire. Miss Stone does not fix any amount as a basis of her claim.

In the published correspondence between this government and Turkey no suggestion of a claim for damages was made. There is indication in a note from Spencer Eddy that indemnity might be demanded for the amount of ransom of Miss Stone, but this claim never has been pressed.

Nicolson, postal clerk, who lives in this city, says that the postal clerks of the United States have a very unique claim against the United States post-office department for actual and necessary expenses while on duty in each of their respective runs, and that no clerk while in service has ever been paid for these expenses.

The claim is based upon the following section of the postal laws and regulations: "Section 1399, article 11—Chief clerks and railway postal clerks shall be paid their actual and necessary expenses while actually traveling on business of the department and away from their designated headquarters."

The claim will amount to something like $14,000,000.

PEACE AT BRIDGEPORT

No Mobs Interfere with the Running of the Street Car Lines.

ONE SHOT IS FIRED AT A CAR

Mayor Mulvihill Criticized for His Action During the Riot—Strike News Notes.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 19.—With very few exceptions the running of trolley cars on the lines of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company, manned by non-union motormen and conductors, was not interfered with. There were fifteen men and boys locked up during the day on charges of intimidation. The majority of the prisoners were using offensive language to the strike-breakers at the time of their arrest. The men were placed under $1,000 bonds each and the boys were obliged to furnish a $300 bond.

One Trolley Car Fired Upon.

A trolley car manned by non-union men, and guarded by two deputy sheriffs, was fired upon by a man on the west side. No damage was done and the man escaped after a stern chase by the officers. Despite the apparent quiet which is prevailing over the city the day was not without its sensational incidents. The most important feature of the day was the action taken at a meeting of the police commissioners, at which some of Bridgeport's most prominent citizens participated.

Mayor Directly Accused.

This meeting was called because of the difference of opinion between Mayor Mulvihill and the police commissioners as to the disposition of the police department during the present trouble. Mayor Mulvihill presided at the meeting. Early in the session he evaded questions which were put to him by gentlemen present, and his bearing eventually resulted in several speeches being made in which the mayor was directly accused of doing more to incite riot Sunday than all other influences combined. (Mayor Mulvihill was elected as the candidate of the labor union.)

Mayor Denies the Charge.

This the mayor strongly denied, but before the meeting was over he agreed that hereafter during the strike he would not interfere with any action taken by the police commissioners in conducting the police department.

KOHLBAAT LOCKS 'EM OUT

Closes Up All His Dining Rooms and Other Plants at Chicago.

Chicago, May 19.—All the bakeries connected with the Kohlbaat lunch rooms and the wholesale bakery operated by the same company have been closed. The bakers had voted to walk out in sympathy with the colored waiters, and to forestall this movement the company decided to lock out its employees. Office men, drivers, engineers, firemen, scrubwomen, laundry girls, and all other persons on the pay rolls of the concern are out of work. The tie-up is complete, and it seems that both sides have settled down for a long drawn-out fight.

Laundry owners in many parts of the city assembled their workers and attempted to influence them to desert the union. In every case reported the effort was a failure. The Capital laundry, 1638 Twelfth street, and the Waite Hand laundry, Forty-seventh street and Langley avenue, opened with union employees. This makes thirty-three laundry owners that have signed the union scale.

Five hundred blacksmiths' helpers struck to compel their employers to accept a wage scale, after having refused to accept a recommendation by a committee of their number to submit their differences to arbitration. Nearly as many blacksmiths are also said to have followed in a sympathetic strike. The whole business is said to be a violation of an agreement.

Another strike of Chicago gas workers is imminent. At a union meeting it was decided to send a committee to demand the reinstatement of 198 discharged strikers, whom the arbitration board last week refused to order reinstated. The committee received instructions to secure an immediate answer or call a strike.

EMPLOYERS' ORGANIZATION

Gompers Says He Favors It, as It Will Tend to Promote Harmony.

Washington, May 19.—President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, is an advocate of the organization of employers, as well as of workmen. Speaking on this topic to a Post reporter, Gompers said: "Employers will find it to their advantage to be organized, and not only this but to deal with organized labor. The movement to form unions among the business men will tend rather to prevent conflict than to promote trouble. The better the organization on both sides the better it will be for business."

"There has been much hot talk about the increasing demands of labor. My experience has taught me not to be an alarmist, and I am not alarmed over this particular situation in general. So long as human nature is as it is there will be manifestations of discontent, both from laborers and employers. But I believe that every day is making for better conditions."

PROGRESS OF OMAHA'S STRIKE

Employers Seem To Be Slowly Gaining the Advantage in the Fight.

Omaha, Neb., May 19.—Although there are more men at work for employers against whom a strike was declared three weeks ago than any time since the struggle began there is far from a general resumption of business. The large restaurants which announced they would open failed to do so, and the laundries did little if anything.

The employing teamsters, however, had a good force at work, although drivers were guarded by deputies. Forty additional horseshoers went on strike, the issue being whether or not the union label should appear on horse shoes set by union labor. The railroads say they have filled the places of striking freight package handlers, and that the strikers will not be taken back.

Looks Like a Possible Settlement.

Jackson, Tenn., May 19.—The action by the federal court in continuing its injunction upon request of counsel for the strikers is construed as a favorable indication, looking to a settlement of the strike on the Mobile and Ohio railroad.

GUARD WAS OFF ITS GUARD

How It Came That Captain Overton and Private Noyes Were Killed by the Bolomen.

Manila, May 19.—The details of the killing of Captain Overton, of the Fifth cavalry, and Private Noyes, of the same regiment, by bolomen in Sulu, island of Mindanao, have been received at military headquarters here. It appears that Captain Overton, Lieutenant Cameron and eleven cavalrymen were pursuing some outlaw followers of a man named Flores in the mountains peopled by the savage Montiscos. They surprised a band and captured and disarmed thirty bolomen. The prisoners were temporarily confined in a room and their bolos thrown in a heap in a corner.

Captain Overton and two men were left to guard the captives, while Lieutenant Cameron and the rest of the party started in pursuit of the remainder of the outlaw band. The natives, seeing the weakness of their guard, suddenly rushed to their bolos and succeeded in getting possession of their weapons. Some of them slashed Captain Overton in the waist, severing an artery. Noyes was instantly killed and dismembered. The other private, named Hartlow, was fatally wounded. The gang then escaped.

COLORADO MAN DEFEATED

Fallen Before a United States Court to Maintain a Suit for Civil Rights Damages.

Trenton, N. J., May 19.—Judge Kirkpatrick in the United States court rendered a decision setting aside the verdict of $500 awarded Henry T. Johnson, a colored minister, in his suit against the Pullman company. Johnson sued because he was refused a seat in a parlor car while en route from Richmond to Washington.

The suit was brought under the federal act of March, 1875, which Judge Kirkpatrick said has been declared unconstitutional. This act related to interstate commerce.

Georgia's Offer Was Liberal.

Toledo, O., May 19.—The first attempt to bribe the new public service board, which assumed office on May 4 last, has been exposed by the board. One of the members gave out for publication a letter from Georgia Evans, now serving a sixty-day term in the work house for assault, in which she offers $1,000 for a parole or pardon.

Death for a Bank Dynamiter.

HORRIBLE FREAK OF A MAD MAN

Digs Up His Child's Body and Takes It in His Arms, Calling It Kissing Names.

Fedford, Ind., May 20.—William Rock became crazy over the death of a child which occurred several months ago. He imagined his child's body had been taken by grave robbers, having read so much of the recent ghoul cases, and going to the cemetery, compelled the sexton to get his tools and dig up the body that he might know it was there. The sexton became alarmed and had to obey to save his life.

He tried to delay the work until he could get help, but Rock noticing it, grasped the tools and finished the job himself. Lifting the coffin from the grave he grasped the body of his child and calling loud and applying endearing names to it. The corpse fell to pieces in his arms. The police arrived later, overpowered him, and he was placed in jail.
